Nina Katchadourian

Upcoming

Sep 18–Dec 12, 2020

At the moment when the country is deeply preoccupied with a major national election, Nina Katchadourian's Monument to the Unelected presents a view and a reminder of the country's collective political road not taken.

Monument to the Unelected has been exhibited during every presidential election cycle since 2008—both on public sites as well as in museums and galleries—and always spanning the time both before and after the election. This year, after the election results have been determined, the 59th loser's sign will be added to the group.
