

Nina Katchadourian

The Columbus Dispatch

By: Nancy Gilson

Published on: August, 27th 2021

24 art exhibits to check out in Columbus this fall: 2 Van Gogh features and much more

A sculptor who creates new works from old musical instruments, works by Columbus native son and renowned pop artist Roy Lichtenstein, contemporary art quilts from an international competition and two big — and very different — exhibits focusing on the works of Vincent Van Gogh are just a few of the coming highlights in the new season of visual arts.

Many of the exhibits will be held in person at museums or art centers but because of the pandemic and CDC guidelines, visitors should check all events before attending. Also because of the pandemic, many of the exhibits will be available to be seen online.

'Nina Katchadourian: To Feel Something That Was Not of Our World'

When: through April 24

Where: Pizzuti Collection, 632 Park St., Short North

What: The artist's multimedia exhibit is based on the survival tale of Dougal Robertson's family, told in his 1973 book "Survive the Savage Sea."

Admission: $5, free to members, veterans and active military and their families and free to all on Sundays.

Information: www.columbusmuseum.org

'Raggin' On: The Art of Aminah Brenda Lynn Robinson's House and Journals'

When: through Oct. 3

Where: Columbus Museum of Art, 480 E. Broad St., Downtown

What: The huge exhibit includes art from the Columbus artist's life and career as well as her journals and artifacts from her house.

Admission: $18, or $9 for senior citizens, students and youth; free for age 3 and younger. General admission is free on Sundays and $5 after 5 p.m. Thursdays. This exhibit includes an additional fee.

Information: www.columbusmuseum.org

'Present Generations: Creating the Scantland Collection of the Columbus Museum of Art'

When: through May 5, 2022

Where: Columbus Museum of Art, 480 E. Broad St., Downtown

What: The museum's new acquisition of contemporary works by 27 artists includes paintings, photographs and sculptural installations.

Admission: $18, or $9 for senior citizens, students and youth; free for age 3 and younger. General admission is free on Sundays and $5 after 5 p.m. Thursdays.

Information: www.columbusmuseum.org

More on the exhibit: Columbus Museum of Art's 'Present Generations' shines spotlight on 27 living artists

'They That Matter: The Work of Larry Winston Collins'

When: through Nov. 5

Where: Shot Tower Gallery, Fort Hayes Metropolitan Education Center, 546 Jack Gibbs Blvd.

What: The artist has created three-dimensional portraits of black men and women who were victims of police shootings in America.

Admission: free

Information: www.ccsouh.us

'Side Effects: Paintings by Patrick McDonnell 2016-2021'

When: through Oct. 3

Where: OSU Urban Arts Space, 50 W. Town St., Suite 130, Downtown

What: Best-known as a comic artist (“MUTTS”), also creates personal and abstract paintings, more than 50 of which are shown in an exhibit conceived by Urban Arts Space and the Billy Ireland Cartoon Library and Museum.

Admission: free

Information: www.uas.osu.edu

'The Dog Show' and 'Into the Swamp'

When: through Oct. 31

Where: The Billy Ireland Cartoon Library and Museum at Ohio State University, Sullivant Hall, 1813 N. High St.

What: The two ongoing exhibits investigate “Two Centuries of Canine Cartoons” and “The Social and Political Satire of Walt Kelly’s Pogo.”

Admission: free

Information: www.cartoons.osu.edu

'A Requiem: Tribute to the Spirited Space at Auschwitz' and 'Selections from The Schumacher Gallery’s Native American Collection'

When: Sept. 7 to Dec. 10

Where: Capital University’s Schumacher Gallery, Blackmore Library, E. Main Street, Bexley

What: “A Requiem” presents large-scale black-and-white photographs by Susan May Tell that simulate the experience of being at Auschwitz, the largest of Nazi Germany’s concentration camps during World War II.

Admission: free

Information: www.capital.edu

'Joanne's Scarves'

When: Sept. 18 to Nov. 6

Where: Otterbein University's Stichweh Gallery,
33 Collegeview Road, Westerville

What: Twenty alumni and artist friends honor the late Joanne Miller Stichweh, creating works inspired by the former Otterbein professor's colorful scarves.

Admission: free

Information: www.otterbein.edu

'The Language of Creativity'

When: Sept. 21 to Oct. 29

Where: Dublin Arts Council, 7125 Riverside Drive, Dublin

What: Members of the Central Ohio branch of the National League of American Pen Women — writers, artists and performers — collaborate on projects in the exhibit.

Admission: free

Information: www.dublinarts.org

'The Art of Wildlife Conservation'

When: Oct. 1 to Dec. 3

Where: Grange Insurance Audubon Center, 505 W. Whittier St.,
Downtown

Your stories live here.

Fuel your hometown passion and plug into the stories that define it.

What: The exhibit will include 25 photographs by nature writer and blogger Jim McCormac and 25 original illustrations by artist Juliet Mullett.

Admission: free

Information: www.grangeinsuranceauduboncenter.org

'Art and Jazz'

When: Oct. 8 to Nov. 13

Where: Cultural Arts Center, 139 W. Main St., Downtown

What: Visual artist Karin Dahl and composer Chris Berg explore how art and music work together to enhance meaning.

Admission: free

Information: www.culturalartscenteronline.org

'Immersive Van Gogh Exhibit Columbus'

When: Oct. 28 to Jan. 2

Where: TO BE ANNOUNCED

What: “Starry Night” and many more of the post-impressionist's great works are projected over 500,000 cubic feet in a traveling exhibit presented all over the world.

Admission: from $40 to $75

Information: www.columbusvangogh.com

'2021 Bicentennial Juried Exhibition'

When: Oct. 30 to Jan. 7

Where: Ohio Arts Council's Riffe Gallery, 77 S. High St.,
Downtown

What: The exhibit features drawings, fiber works, photography, painting, sculpture and videos by 53 artists living and working in Ohio.

Admission: free

Information: www.oac.ohio.gov

'My Story, My Song: New Work by Creative Women of Color'

When: Oct. 31 to Jan. 17

Where: Ohio Dominican University's Wehrle Gallery, 1216
Sunbury Road

What: Works in fiber, textiles, metals and more by members of a group of African American women artists will be featured.

Admission: free

Information: www.ohiodominican.edu

'Van Kerkhove and Kowalski: Accomplices'

When: Nov. 9 to Dec. 17

Where: Dublin Arts Council, 7125 Riverside Drive, Dublin

What: Printmaker Joseph Van Kerkhove and ceramicist Kristin Kowalski explore contrasts and symmetry in their exhibit.

Admission: free

Information: www.dublinarts.org

'Through Vincent's Eyes: Van Gogh and his Sources'

When: Nov. 12 to Feb. 6

Where: Columbus Museum of Art, 480 E. Broad St., Downtown

What: The exhibit will include 15 paintings and drawings by Van Gogh and more than 100 works by Impressionists, Post-Impressionists and other artists who influenced and inspired him.

Admission: $18, or $9 for senior citizens, students and youth; free for age 3 and younger. General admission is free on Sundays and $5 after 5 p.m. Thursdays. This exhibit will include an additional fee.

Information: www.columbusmuseum.org

'Out of Tunes'

When: Nov. 19 to Dec. 31

Where: Cultural Arts Center, 139 W. Main St., Downtown

What: Brian Riegel turns recycled musical instruments into mixed-media sculptures.

Admission: free

Information: www.culturalartscenteronline.org

'James Stewart: Deaf Republic' and 'Ron Anderson: Into the Light'

When: Dec. 7 to March 20

Where: Ohio Wesleyan University's Ross Art Museum, 60 S. Sandusky St., Delaware

What: In paintings and ceramics, Stewart interprets Ilya Kaminsky's poetry book, "Deaf Republic." Anderson, a Columbus painter, captures African Americans, especially in music and dance.

Admission: free

Information: www.owu.edu

'Boundary Lines'

When: Jan. 7 to Feb. 12

Where: Cultural Arts Center, 139 W. Main St., Downtown

What: The show brings together four artists — Erin Furimsky, Nathan Gorgen, Molly Jo Burke and Katie Davis — working in a variety of mediums to explore the concept of boundaries.

Admission: free

Information: www.culturalartscenteronline.org

'Quilt National 2021 Traveling Exhibition'

When: Jan. 28 to April 9

Where: Ohio Arts Council's Riffe Gallery, 77 S. High St., Downtown

What: A large sampling of contemporary art quilts from the Dairy Barn Arts Center in Athens will be on display.

Admission: free

Information: www.oac.ohio.gov

'Kuumba Connection'

When: Feb. 6 to April 3

Where: Ohio Craft Museum, 1665 W. 5th Ave.

What: Curated by Bettye Stull, the exhibit showcases narrative quilts by Kuumba artists, a group that formed to share ideas and expertise during the isolation of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Admission: free

Information: www.ohiocraft.org

'Frayed'

When: Feb. 18 to March 26

Where: Cultural Arts Center, 139 W. Main St., Downtown

What: The exhibit is the culmination of a journey taken by artists Mary Hoffelt and Char Norman to Selva Vida Sin Fronteras (Rainforest-Life Without Frontiers), Amazon Reserve for Peace in Ecuador.

Admission: free

Information: www.culturalartscenteronline.org

'Women Carry the Weight of the World: Pandemic Work by Eliana Calle-Saari'

When: Feb. 27 to April 17

Where: Ohio Dominican University's Wehrle Gallery, 1216 Sunbury Road

What: Stranded on the island of Antigua during the pandemic, the artist created woodcuts of local women carrying food, bags, children and animals — a metaphor for women carrying the weight of the world.

Admission: free

Information: www.ohiodominican.edu

'Roy Lichtenstein: History in the Making, 1948-1960'

When: March 4 to June 5

Where: Columbus Museum of Art, 480 E. Broad St., Downtown

What: This will be the first major museum exhibition looking at the early work of the 20th-century artist who spent his formative years in Columbus.

Admission: $18, or $9 for senior citizens, students and youth; free for age 3 and younger. General admission is free on Sundays and $5 after 5 p.m. Thursdays. This exhibit will include an additional fee.

Information: www.columbusmuseum.org

Before you go

As of press time, here are the COVID policies at area visual-arts venues. Check websites before visiting to confirm.

- Billy Ireland Cartoon Library & Museum: Ohio State guidelines will be followed, including a mask requirement.
- Capital University's Schumacher Gallery: Masks are required; no vaccination proof or negative test are required at present.
- Columbus Museum of Art: Masks are expected.
- Cultural Arts Center: City of Columbus guidelines will be followed, including a mask requirement inside buildings.
- Dublin Arts Council: Masks are required.

- Fort Hayes Gallery: Masks are required.
- “Immersive Van Gough Exhibit Columbus”: Masks are required along with social distancing of six feet.
- Ohio Craft Museum: Masks are encouraged.
- Ohio Wesleyan University: Masks are required.
- Otterbein University: Masks are required.
- Pizzuti Collection: Masks are expected.
- Riffe Gallery: Masks encouraged.

<https://www.dispatch.com/story/entertainment/2021/08/27/24-art-exhibits-check-out-columbus-ohio-fall-winter-van-gogh/8135360002/>